

In the last five years I have taken on Judging at County fairs, Sewing for people and working Auctions to make ends meet.

I do use the credit card for my expenses with the job and pray my expense check comes when the credit card bill comes.

Each month there is a concern for paying our present bills. My husband has recently retired and with a fixed income it is a challenge.

We are unable to take a vacation especially in the last two years. If we take advantage of our vacation time we find something very reasonable to do around home.
